One Drop

One Drop is a speculative summoning, a decolonial dream, an autopsy of the Western stage and an operetta. Slipping in meanings, leaking through different categories the work dives into the poetics and politics of relations, creating a stage that awakens the ghosts, connections lost or forgotten. It continues Lindfors' series of works dealing with power, representation and Black body politics.

Performers: Isabella Shaw, Maele Sabuni, Geoffrey Erista, Selina Jones, Deogracias Masomi, Marlon Moilanen, Miranda Chambers, Alen Nsambu, DK Fashola

Premiere: Tanssin Talo, Helsinki, 2023

Sonya Lindfors

Sonya Lindfors is a Cameroonian - Finnish choreographer and artistic director that also works with facilitating, community organising and education. In 2013 she received an MA in choreography from the University of the Arts Helsinki. She is the founding member and Artistic Director of UrbanApa, an interdisciplinary and counter hegemonic arts community that offers a platform for new discourses and feminist art practices.

The Brussels community greatly benefited from the performance, finding deep resonance with its themes and representation. The after-talk was invaluable, and Sonya and the crew built a strong network with local activists and artists, creating mutual benefits for all involved.

When I grow up, I will become a coat rack

Blending activism with richly detailed textiles, film, and installation, When I grow up, I will become a coat rack offers a provocative and imaginative look at the systemic marginalisation of disabled people. Across three immersive rooms, each carefully designed in colour, texture, and sound, visitors encountered layered, non-linear narratives that challenged conventions around care, agency, and access.

1646 commissioned composer Kemal Gorey to create a score for How Great Is Your Darkness?, an originally silent piece made mostly by disabled artists and activists, critiquing hate speech about people with disabilities in social and health care.

Jenni-Juulia Wallinheimo-Heimonen

Jenni-Juulia Wallinheimo-Heimonen is a multidisciplinary artist and disability activist who works with textile art, installation, film and performance. In 2024 she was one of three artists selected to the Pavilion of Finland at the 60th International Art Exhibition – La Biennale di Venezia.

She has osteogenesis imperfecta as a piquant characteristic.

We will carry the insights gained from this collaboration forward, applying them to our future exhibitions as we continue working towards greater accessibility and inclusivity.

Parachorale

Parachorale continues Ala-Ruona's series of works addressing the psychosomatic extremes of transcorporeality and paranormal potential. As the sequel to his solo Lacuna (2021), it speaks to the experience of inner dissonance. At its heart lies the desire to share an under-the-skin world and to create a new understanding of reality with the audience.

Performers: Teo Ala-Ruona, Caroline Suinner, Anni Puolakka, Pauliina Sjöberg, Tuukka Haapakorpi

Premiere: Baltic Circle, Helsinki, 2024

Teo Ala-Ruona

Teo Ala-Ruona is a multidisciplinary artist based in Helsinki, working in the fields of performance, contemporary theatre, and choreography.

Ala-Ruona's work has recently been shown in The Biennale Architettura 2025 (Venice), Performa Biennial (New York), and Fundació Joan Miró Museum (Barcelona).

In 2025, Ala-Ruona was awarded the Linnamo Foundation Award for openness in artistic work.

“It’s wonderful to bring Parachorale to the Netherlands for its premiere, as this piece is very dear to me and I’ve never performed there before. I find the Dutch performance art scene very interesting, and I think it’s important for the work to reach new audiences beyond Finland.”

– Teo Ala-Ruona
